Here you can fully savor the sweet tranquility of the high-mountain countryside.

【Green Green Grassland】

Known as a “Foggy Eden” far away from the city area in the mountains, Qingjing Farm is great for those who enjoy fresh air, lush forests, acre of flowers along the plains and hillside, and beautiful starry nights. Located in the northern section of Qingjing Farm is Green Green Grassland, which is an open pasture ground for livestock such as sheep and cows to roam and graze freely. Visitors are able to see the animals up close and interact with them.

【Fruit-picking】

Taiwan is well-known for fruit cultivation. From spring to winter, varieties of fruits are readily available throughout the whole year. Don't miss this chance to pick your own fruits and taste the rich flavor of the fresh seasonal fruits.

【Hehuanshan】

Hehuanshan is a 3,416-metre-high (11,207 ft) mountain in Central Taiwan. The peak lies on the boundaries of Nantou and Hualien counties and is within the Taroko Gorge National Park. Hehuanshan is a popular destination for the local people of central Taiwan. The 3,421-metre East Peak and 3,422-metre North Peak of Hehuanshan are actually both higher than the main peak. It is snowing in march every year only in that month

The Hehuanshan Road leads up from Puli in central Nantou past Wushe (Ren-ai) and Chingjing Farm up to Wuling. Wuling, at 3,275 metres above sea level, is the highest automobile pass in Taiwan.
